

Want to be an LDComfort Dealer?

LDComfort only allows dealers who are willing to learn how their products work in order to better educate the customers. Educating the customers is the best way to sell LDComfort garments.

Here are the steps you need to take to become an LDComfort dealer:

1. Buy your own pair of LDComfort riding shorts and ride in them for a few hundred miles or more.
2. Learn about LDComfort products by reading the website and watching the videos.
3. Contact Mario Winkelman to answer any questions and discuss the best way to sell LDComfort garments in your establishment.

After signing all the necessary paperwork it is advisable that your sales staff know all the information on why LDComfort garments are the best. If you want to move the product, you have to be able to tell customers why LDComfort is the best.

You can order LDComfort garments right from our website: LDComfort.com.

To contact Mario e-mail him at mario@ldcomfort.com.

You may also call from 9am-5pm Monday – Friday at 360-539-2043.
